CAR STRIKE RIOTING IS RESUMED IN QUAKER CITY

Boy Killed and Many are Wounded

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED

Will Involve 100,000 Men and Situation Is More Serious.

CAR WRECKS STORE BUILDING

Many Clashes During Which Women Are Prominent.

Philadelphia, Feb. 28.—Union labor in this city have voted to back up the street car men in the fight against the traction company. The Central Labor Union after a secret meeting of 600 delegates voted for a general strike to go into effect next Saturday.

The decision of the union bosses followed a day of almost continuous rioting in which a boy was killed and sixty persons were hurt. The trouble spread over the southeastern section of the city and flared up wherever police protection was inadequate. It was one of the worst days Philadelphia has suffered since the employes of the P. R. T. walked out.

The order for a general sympathetic strike was determined on to force the Rapid Transit company to arbitrate with its men. The reason for postponing the strike until next Saturday was that the company may be forced by public opinion to agree to arbitration.

The action of the Central Labor unions puts it up to the individual unions to vote whether they want to strike. As a matter of fact, most of them have voted already to go out. The situation is sufficiently alarming to citizens, who are wearied of the incessant violence.

The danger lies in this, that the striking car men will have the active help of 90,000 idle men, that may produce far more disorder than the city has yet seen. The resumption of rioting was caused largely by the certainty that a general strike order would be the result of the labor meeting.

Today efforts will be renewed to persuade the Rapid Transit company to modify its attitude, and to agree at least, to arbitrate full differences. The clergymen of the city will renew their offers and the matter will be taken up by the association of business men.

The lower southeast part of the city was ablaze with trouble all day. Since the coming of the state constabulary the discontented and disorderly have been overawed. The news that a sympathetic strike was to be called to force the Rapid Transit company into submission, was enough to start bombarding the cars again.

Along Fifth and Sixth streets, where trunk lines of the P. R. T. run, thousands of people lined the sidewalks, hooting the non-union motormen and conductors and occasionally throwing a stone. Sometimes troopers had to be summoned to free cars that had been held up. Passengers were forced to throw themselves flat on the floors. Several were cut by glass that flew from the broken windows.

A southbound car turned east at Jackson street and the conductor failed to throw back the switch. After the car had gone on, someone placed a piece of wood in the switch to hold it open. There were three passengers on the car following. It was attacked so viciously at Dickinson street that the three threw themselves on their faces. Stones and bricks crashed through the windows.

A policeman on the front platform was struck with a brick, fired into the crowd but hit nobody. The motorman twisted his controller clear over the car and shot ahead at top speed. The motorman failed to notice that the switch was blocked open. The car took the switch with a terrific sag and jerk, righted itself, shot ahead the length of the switch, bounded across a sidewalk and drove into the wall of a store at the southeast corner of Fifth and Jackson. The impact was so heavy that the wall gave way, letting the nose of the car into the store.

The motorman and conductor jumped before the smash, but the policeman was caught and injured. Charles McKenna, a 10-year-old boy couldn't get out of the way and was pinned between the car and the wall. He died half an hour later in the Methodist hospital. John F. Frederick was crushed in the same way and cannot survive his injuries. The others who were hurt seriously are three boys, Abraham Skinsky, Raymond Trainor and Edward Moore.

A boy and two women in the store narrowly escaped death. The car whirled a heavy counter from its place. The women and the boy were caught behind the counter. They were squeezed, but not seriously hurt. It required 100 policemen to clear the street.

There were riots and hard work for police and troopers along Girard avenue in West Philadelphia. A spirit of recklessness was plainly evident before actual disturbances took place. In these sections the approach of a street car was the signal for yelling, in which women took part as well as men.

A crowd of 3,000 wandered through the streets between Fifth and Eleventh. They pushed a coal car across the eighth street car track at Washington avenue. The tracks were barricaded fore and aft the car. A squad of policemen came up in an automobile and charged into the crowd, clubbing right and left.

Cars were stoned at Fourth and South streets and several persons were injured. When the police went to break up the mob that had formed there, they were attacked from the windows of houses. Stones and bricks were thrown at them. Five men were arrested.

The police were kept on the jump in the neighborhood of Seventh and South and at Eighth and Fitzwater streets. A police sergeant who had arrested a rioter was surrounded by a crowd, who threatened to kill him if he did not let his prisoner go.

MAY USE THE PARK FOR BALL GAMES

AGREEMENT IS REACHED BETWEEN ASSOCIATION AND RAILWAY CO.

The Dixon Baseball association and the management of the Sterling, Dixon and Eastern Electric Railway company have made arrangements whereby the ball grounds known as Athletic park may be used by the association for ball games. This will be pleasing news to the public, as this is the most accessible and best equipped ball park Dixon possesses.

Mrs. Virgie Herndon of Louisville, Ky., is visiting her brother, H. M. Wright, of East Second street.

JUDGE WARD MADE A STIRRING SPEECH

EXPRESSED VIEWS BORDERING ON SOCIALISM BY WAY OF ARGUMENT.

"LOYALTY TO LAW" HIS THEME

Better Government Cannot Be Secured Until Laws Are More Thoroughly Enjoyed.

In his address before the congregation of the Presbyterian church last evening on the theme, "Loyalty to Law." Judge Ward of Sterling, got very close to the border of socialism. While not a socialist at heart, it is believed the speaker got nearer the brink of socialism than he intended and when he reached that point he resolved to go ahead and give vent to his ideas at that time.

Judge Ward's address was an interesting one. It was full of splendid ideas. It was an appeal for better government, or rather the enforcement of the principal constitutional provisions.

"There is too much law today. There never was a lack of law in this country," declared the speaker.

"I believe that no law should be passed unless there was a necessity for such a law. And when that law is passed and spread upon the statutes the law should be enforced."

In speaking of the enforcement of constitutional provisions the judge took occasion to rap Cannonism, Aldrichism and other isms. "The constitution provides for three departments: executive, legislative and judicial. These departments must be separate and distinct. But now that is not the case. The president because he thinks he must carry out the desires of party which was responsible for his elevation to the executive chair, dictates to the legislative.

The legislative gives instructions to the executive, and as a result of this kind of proceedings the country has a one, two or three man rule. What is responsible for this kind of government? Corporations, trusts, etc. We will all admit that at the present time the trusts and corporations come nearer ruling this country than do the people for whom the government was intended.

I maintain that it is disloyalty to the constitution not to carry out the provisions of the constitution.

As long as his kind of work is permitted, what will become of the middleman?"

Judge Ward made this statement: Today the laboring man earns $2,500 and gets $450 of that sum. Why does he not get all he earns? I know the laboring man should get better wages, for God knows he is entitled to more pay."

Advocates Government Ownership.

For a few minutes the speaker left loyalty to law and jumped into the government ownership proposition. He advocated government ownership of banks, railroads, etc. He declared that the banking trust was the worst trust of all. He said: "In 20 years the banking business of this country will be done by the government.

The government will be in the banking business by the end of that time or there will be one central bank owned and controlled by the trust.

I also advocate the government ownership of railroads. Why is it that the government is compelled to pay the railroad companies so much money for carrying the mails? If the governent would put the money it pays the railroads into railroad building funds it would be better off. In time it could build roads and compete with the great trunk lines. This would better matters considerably.

Judge Ward advocated a graduated income tax and an inheritance tax, as remedies.

The speaker was introduced by Attorney A. C. Bardwell. In his few remarks Attorney Bardwell declared that great problems needed attention. "We must look to the people for better government," declared Mr. Bardwell.

Mrs. O. P. Johnson is ill.

A. F. Gehant went to Ashton today.

Walter Gilbert of Ashton was here Sunday.

Arrest of a Philadelphia Rioter; Rescuing Battered Strike Breaker.

Philadelphia's great trolley men's strike, marked by violence and resistance to authority, will rank among the worst disturbances of the kind in the country's history. Hundreds of arrests made in a day, injuries to scores of persons sent to the hospitals and fatalities from bullets, missiles and beatings left the authorities in no doubt as to the seriousness of the problem that confronted them. The pictures show the arrest of a rioter by a mounted policeman, the latter having a revolver in his hand, and the rescue of a strike breaker after he had been badly beaten by members of the mob.

I WISH IT WAS ALL OVER WITH

DECLARED ST. CLAIR TO HIS CELLMATE IN ROCKFORD.

Rockford, Feb. 28—Special—Sheriff Collier is receiving a flood of requests from those who desire to witness the execution of St. Clair and has more now than he will be able to acknowledge. The law prescribes the number admitted to an execution and as this is small, many will have to be denied admission. Anyone having any doubt as to how the people of Winnebago stand on capital punishment will do well to confer with the sheriff, who from his daily mail and telephone calls will be able to satisfy them.

St. Clair Resigned.

Clinton St. Clair seems resigned to his fate and to Orr Combs has expressed the wish that it was all over. Combs is St. Clair's cellmate and seeks to comfort the murderer and keep his mind from thoughts of the crime and impending fate. Rev. G. R. Vanhorne, who has been accepted as spiritual advisor, visits the condemned man daily and converses with him regarding things spiritual.

The motion for a new trial will be argued Wednesday.

TAKE UP INTERESTS OF THE FARMERS

MAY PUT TRAIN ON THIS LINE

Phil Miller Will Be With the Train on the Big Four Road This Week.

Phil Miller, the phosphate salesman, came out from Chicago Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his family. This morning he left for Burlington to join a party of professors of agriculture from the state university on a jaunt through the state. The party is traveling in a private train. The train will stop at every village and city along the Big Four railroad and speeches will be made from the rear platform to the farmers, advocating more scientific farming. More than a week will be devoted to the work. The meeting have been well advertised and at each stopping place it is anticipated that the speakers will be greeted by large crowds.

All matters pertaining to getting better results will be discussed. The question of soil will be the leading topic discussed. Another important theme that will be thoroughly discussed is that of the agricultural experiment station.

It is possible that the Illinois Central railroad company will take up the matter of running a special on its line from Cairo to Galena. If this proposition materializes the farmers of this community will get an opportunity to hear some fine speeches on farming.

The state university is endeavoring to educate the farmers into making this the most productive agricultural state in the union, and progressive farmers everywhere are entering into the spirit of the movement.

The local option commitee has engaged the opera house for each Sunday afternoon from now until election day and will have speakers here of national reputation and local interest.

ANOTHER BOGUS CHECK IS SPRUNG

A man who posed as John Myers made a bold attempt to pass a bad check at the Ahrens department store at Sterling Saturday afternoon. The check was forged and was for $20. The fellow got away with a pair of shoes and a pair of overshoes which he had on when he made his getaway and which will serve as a means of identification if he is landed by the officers, who are on his trail.

When the check was presented for payment for goods the manager of the store said he would send it over to the bank to ascertain if it was all right. Myers wanted to take the check to the bank himself, but the manager smelling a rat declared that he would see to that part of the deal. Before the check was returned from the bank Myers had made his escape. It is believed that he boarded a train for the west.

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

BALDNESS IS TOO GENERALLY CONSIDERED A SIGN OF ADVANCED AGE.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over thirty-five years of age as new employes.

Almost 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair or baldness, to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here where you live, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success depends entirely upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer except that we are certain that we can substantiate it in every particular. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Dixon only at our store—the Rexall Store. C. M. Campbell & Son.

J. J. HILL SAYS HE SHOULD LET THE ESPECIALLY EQUIPPED COLLEGES DO THIS IMPORTANT WORK.

The following portion of an article appearing in a current number of The Homestead, a journal devoted to agriculture, will be of interest to the people of this vicinity who are interested in the locality of an experiment station here:

"At a recent congress President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern, made a lengthy address in which he made a sincere plea for the farmers' interests and strongly endorsed the agricultural schools. He said:

'Your agricultural college and that of every other state is in touch with all the agricultural institutions in the world, and everything they have demonstrated there is beyond question the common property of all. Modern scientific agriculture calls for as high an order of intelligence as any other science. Now the farmers on the farm have not the time, the opportunity nor the knowledge to make these experiments. Let your agricultural college make the experiments. Let them anaylze your soil; let them know what they need most; what they have lost by years of cultivation; let them adapt the seed to the soil; let them know what is the best season and the best time to plant the different seed, and when and how to divide them so the farmer will have a crop ripening, not all at once, but one following the other so as to give him an opportunity to take care of his property.'

There is no man before the public eye today who has made a closer and more careful study of economic and commercial conditions than has Mr. Hill.

A WONDER IN THE HEAVENS.

The wonderful comet known as Halley's comet, after the astronomer who first proved the time of its periodic return, will be one of the wonders in the early morning sky about April or May 1910. This comet returns near the sun in its orbit, once in about 75 years. It will be a heavenly wonder worth taking pains to see.

A. E. THUMMEL WRITES FROM HONOLULU

VISITED WITH THE CARPENTERS

Is Raising Garden Vegetables, Bathing in Ocean and Riding in Automobiles.

Anson E. Thummel of Sterling, one of the directors of the Rock River chautauqua, who with his wife is visiting his son in law, Rev. Amos Ebersole at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, writes an interesting letter to his friend, E. H. Rickard. Mr. Thummel being so well known here, the Telegraph believes many of its readers would be pleased to read what he has to say about this very interesting place.

The letter in part follows:

"Mrs. Thummel has recovered from her seasickness, but don't want to risk going to the island of Maui to see the big volcano. It is a 200-mile trip and most of the way on the ocean and as the boats are not large and the sea is rough she don't want to risk it. We met John R. Carpenter and wife soon after their arrival. We met them at church. On the following Tuesday we went over and had a visit with them. I believe the Carpenters will like it here. They have a fine son in law and are nicely located. We are glad that we have missed a long, cold and disagreeable winter. We have had 60 degrees weather here and it has only been that low once, I think. It generally hangs around 70 degrees. Day before yesterday it was so warm I went barefoot nearly all day while working in the garden. Our garden is a strip 6 feet wide by 150 feet deep. I have dug up this strip and we have had radishes for two weeks, lettuce once; we have had green peas and beet greens and next Monday we will have a picking of beans, and other vegetables all coming soon. The beauty of it is, when one kind of vegetable gives out we can replant, and so keep on. Of course in dry times one has to use the hose. I only mention this to demonstrate this point. We have been here only seven weeks and it was one week before I commenced our garden. The ground here is in fine condition.

"Automobiles are all the go here and we have had a couple of fine rides in them. One day we rode about 40 miles. We have fine roads here and can use them the entire year. Last evening we went with the folks to a C. E. social held at a private home. It was in the nature of a trip in the southland. This afternoon we are going to the beach. There will be surf and boat racing and besides you can take a swim if you like. Mrs. Thummel and I are in love with this country and if it were not for crossing the ocean we would spend each winter here.

"The houses are built so open here and most of the time the doors and windows are all open and lots of the working men go barefoot. Good sized children go to school barefoot. The homes have no fires to keep warm by. Such lovely homes and beautiful yards and in lots of the older ones there are fruit and flowers that are growing the year around. I don't believe the leaves fall as we seldom see any on the ground. I must inquire about that.

"Mr. Ebersole works hard and he seems to be well liked. There is so much outside work to be done, Mrs. Ebersole has a good time and looks well.

"The big boat Cleveland docked here this morning from Frisco on a trip around the world, with 700 passengers aboard. They will spend Sunday here.

"Dinner is over and we are off for the beach for an afternoon of sport."

Honor For New Envoy; Earl Grey's Successor; Redmond a Power In Parliament; Abdul Hamid Mad.

In planning to give a dinner in honor of Baron Uchida, the new ambassador from Japan, the Japan Society of New York pursued its policy of promoting good feeling between Japan and the United States. The ambassador was recently elected honorary president of the society.

Captivity even in a palace near Salonika has not been a pleasant experience for Abdul Hamid, ex-sultan of Turkey. It was recently reported that his mind had given way.

John Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalists, will be one of the most powerful and influential figures in the new British parliament in spite of some opposition to him among his fellow countrymen. The slender Liberal plurality gives the Irishmen their opportunity to press the claims of Ireland.

Better Than a Coffee Boycott

Costs a lot to live these days. Too much, most folks think. But you wouldn't want to give up the satisfaction of living, just to cut down expenses.

There's one item of expense you CAN CUT DECIDEDLY and still enjoy life just as you do now—in fact, enjoy it A LITTLE MORE.

WE ARE TALKING ABOUT COFFEE.

If you think you have to pay 30 cents a pound to get good coffee, YOU'RE WRONG. And 30-cent coffee, in high-price times like these, is an EXTRAVAGANCE.

You can cut that price 13 cents and get a better quality, a lot more coffee-satisfaction. If you use two pounds a week you SAVE 26 cents a week. That's $13.52 saved in a year and $13.52 is four per cent interest on $338.

That's considerable saving IN COFFEE, isn't it?

You get this better quality at a money-saving price in McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee. It's a good old Rio and Santos blend—BUT NOT MUCH FOR LOOKS. The beans aren't all the same size. If they were it would cost you more.

Some of the beans are broken. If we threw these out it would cost you still more. THIS SORTING WOULDN'T MAKE THE COFFEE ONE BIT BETTER. Every bean of McLaughlin's XXXX, and every BROKEN bean, is GOOD coffee, well roasted and then coated by our exclusive Four-Ex Process* with pure granulated sugar syrup to KEEP the goodness—the fragrance, the flavor, the refreshment—IN the coffee until it comes to you.

It isn't CHEAP coffee. It isn't BOARDING HOUSE coffee, nor CAMP coffee. It is coffee that will grace ANYBODY'S table.

Every good grocer sells it.

Here's a good way to begin GETTING AROUND the high cost of living. For economy and for coffee-quality, use McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee.

*The Four-Ex Process does not sweeten the coffee, in the cup.

KEEN RACE FOR THE SOUTH POLE

Contest Between England and America That Is Expected to Arouse the Sporting Blood of the Whole World :: :: ::

Each Expedition to Start Next Summer Practically at the Same Time and From Opposite Sides of the Pole :: ::

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THE south pole may as well come in and be discovered. The Americans and English are after it, and when both branches of the Anglo-Saxon race start out to do a thing there is nothing more to it. As Captain Robert F. Scott, the leader of the prospective British expedition, expressed it, he will stay two years if he does not discover the pole in one, will stay three years if he does not discover it in two, and added, "In fact, we shall jolly well stop there till the thing is done."

As for the American expedition, its commanding spirit will be Robert E. Peary, even though he is not to accompany it in person. It is Peary who plans it, Peary who turned over to it the $10,000 given him in New York, Peary who donates it the use of the Roosevelt and Peary's companions in the discovery of the north pole who will man the expedition. Since Peary tried for the other end of the world for twenty-three years, it is unnecessary to say that the exploring party organized by him and animated by his spirit will also "jolly well stop there till the thing is done."

There have been few finer examples than that furnished by Commander Peary in this entire affair. His correspondence with Captain Scott to determine if an American expedition would be acceptable to the British, who through the Shackleton and other explorations had established a prior claim in the antarctic field, revealed the instincts of the sportsman and an honorable regard for the feelings of others. Peary's donation of his $10,000 gift and of the Roosevelt had a dramatic touch and exhibited unselfishness. This same unselfishness was displayed by his voluntary relinquishment of the honor of leading the expedition.

Belated Recognition.

Those of us who criticised Mr. Peary for his attacks on Dr. Cook should now be the more ready to render tribute to the true discoverer of the north pole. While personally not for long deceived by the Cook claims, I, like the majority of other newspaper men who wrote on the subject, regarded Peary's strictures on his rival as ungenerous and in bad taste. Subsequent events have to some extent justified him, or at least have shown his provocation. When one has worked twenty-three years for a certain thing and at last has attained it only to have some purveyor of fiction beat him to the cable office and claim the laurels—well, who wouldn't yell "Stop, thief?"

The last heard of Dr. Cook he was in South America, but he was not looking for the south pole. He has doubtless had enough of the polar proposition to last him the rest of his natural life. The doctor seems to be yearning for obscurity. Why not let him have it?

It is now Peary's turn. The house of representatives may not be willing to make him a rear admiral, but why should that disturb him? There are platoons of rear admirals, but only one pole discoverer. Who knows the names of six of our estimable rear admirals? Yet who in the circle of the nations has not heard of Peary? Some of these holders of toy titles and gilt shoulder straps get an inflated notion of such things. In the big world of real men and women what do they count for? What have they to do with the ages? So long as history lasts Peary's fame will last. What could a rear admiral's title add to him?

Bartlett Will Go.

Captain Robert A. Bartlett, who commanded the Roosevelt in its trip to the arctic and went nearer the north pole than any white man except Peary, has already resigned a good job to take his old station in the trip to the other end of the world. Before he had sent in his resignation his possible connection with the antarctic expedition was discussed with Commander Peary.

"Will Bartlett go?" somebody asked.

Peary paused in open mouthed astonishment. "Will Bartlett go?" he repeated musingly, as if to make sure that he had heard aright. "Bartlett will go. Nothing but a ball and chain and the bars of a state or federal prison could possibly keep Bartlett from going."

Some of the pictures of Captain Bartlett look almost human, but there are others that have a positively terrifying aspect. I recall one in particular in which he has a pipe in his mouth that would cause a stampede of polar bears. If he looked like that at his Eskimo dog team it is no wonder that the Peary party made quick time to the pole. The dogs would cover thirty or forty miles a day merely to get away.

The English-American race to the south pole will be a sporting event that will stir the world's blood. The two expeditions will start at opposite sides of the pole at practically the same time. Captain Scott will traverse the route already covered by Lieutenant Shackleton. The Peary party will go in from Weddell sea over a course uncharted and unknown. The English expedition will have motors, Siberian ponies and dogs. The Americans will depend on dogs alone. While the rivalry is to be entirely friendly, it will nevertheless be keen and should arouse the sporting blood of the two nations as not even the yacht races, the Derbies, the tennis and polo matches and other international contests have done.

It is not at all impossible that the betting fraternity will get into the game and big stakes be placed on the event. Commander Peary suggests that one exploring party might get to the pole only twenty-four hours ahead of the other, which would be a closer race than that to the cable lines when Dr. Cook broke out of the north only a week ahead of himself. There will be no Cook finish to this affair, however. The example of the Brooklyn explorer will prevent others from claiming to have discovered any pole whatsoever without sworn affidavits, diagrams and proofs that would convince the now skeptical University of Copenhagen. It will be impossible, however, for the discoverer of the south pole to "bring on his Eskimos" for the reason that no human beings live on the antarctic continent.

Pole on a High Plateau.

The probability is that the south pole is on a plateau 10,000 feet in elevation and that both exploring parties will have an all land route. Shackleton found land all the way in his journey and when he reached his farthest south at 111 miles from the goal said that powerful fieldglasses revealed a continuing plateau as far as he could see. His elevation was then about 10,000 feet. Because of the altitude and for the reason that there is no sea water to modify the temperature the area surrounding the south pole is colder than that encountered by arctic explorers. Mountains and glaciers also make the going in the antarctic difficult. For all that, the discovery of the south pole should be less difficult than was that of the northern end of the world. There are no open leads and no drifting ice floes, two of the obstacles that have defeated so many arctic explorers in their efforts to reach the north pole.

The route to be followed by the American party leading in from Weddell sea is also thought to be over the land, though next to nothing is actually known concerning it. A coast line has been discovered, and this is supposed to be the shore of the antarctic continent. It may, however, be only a shell, with open sea beyond it. Again, it may lead to high and practically inaccessible mountain ranges. This uncertainty as to what the Americans may encounter would put the odds in favor of the British, since they will follow for most of the distance the course already traversed by Lieutenant Shackleton, just as Shackleton, in turn, kept close to the track made by Captain Scott in his first expedition of 1901-4.

Two Polar Dashes In 1911.

The Englishmen will go in from New Zealand and the Americans from Punta Arenas, on the southern extremity of South America. The start in each case will be made next summer. The seasons in the southern hemisphere are, of course, the exact reverse of ours, Christmas occurring in midsummer there and the 4th of July in midwinter. It is designed to go into winter quarters in 1911 and to make the actual polar dashes during the spring and summer of 1911-12. If successful the expeditions will then start home early in 1912. It is barely possible that news may be heard of one or both ventures before either reaches a cable station, as the British intend to take wireless apparatus and to establish wireless stations at their two bases, which will be approximately 500 miles apart. It is not impossible that these wireless stations could be utilized for communication with the outside world, although the distance will be very great.

Captain Robert Falson Scott, the leader of the British expedition, was born in 1868 and has been in the navy since 1882. He served in various ships, becoming successively lieutenant, commander and captain, which last rank he has held since 1904. His first antarctic expedition started in from Port Lyttleton, New Zealand, which will be the base of the new venture. Near the eightieth parallel a high ice barrier was found, but a long shift was made, a pass discovered, and an approach was pushed toward the pole, which stopped a few hundred miles short of the record made by Lieutenant Shackleton last year. It is not without interest that Shackleton gained his first antarctic experience as a member of this first Scott expedition. It is hardly probable that he will accompany the next one, as he is now busy writing a book, but either next summer or later may lead an expedition of his own. He will shortly visit America, where he is to be signally honored.

Why Shackleton Turned Back.

Lieutenant Shackleton's account of the last days of his journey is thrilling, and as it describes conditions which will be met by the two expeditions now forming I subjoin a few extracts:

The blizzard had done its work, however, and we recognized that we had just about reached our limit. We got up at 2 a. m. and at 4 a. m. were away for a final march south, taking with us nothing but food, instruments and the queen's flag, with a bamboo rod for a staff.

Half running, half walking, we made that last march, and at 9 a. m. in latitude 88 degrees 23 minutes we hoisted the union jack. We could do no more, for to go farther meant abandoning all hope of getting back to our depots.

The pole, though only ninety-seven geographical miles away (111 statute miles), was impossible for us to attain. Before us stretched the same white plain over which we had traveled for many days. Our powerful Goertz glasses showed no signs of land, and we could safely assume that the geographical south pole was situated on this immense plateau, between 10,000 and 11,000 feet above sea level and certainly the coldest and one of the most stormy parts of the world. We took a photograph of the party, with the queen's flag blowing out in the icy wind that cut us to the bone, took possession of the plateau on behalf of his majesty and immediately began the march back to our camp, our faces once more turned north.

The leader of the American expedition will probably not be announced for some time. The most likely men for the post are Borup and McMillan, both of whom accompanied Peary in his north pole dash. Whoever is in command, Robert E. Peary will be the actual head. Under his guidance and inspiration we have a right to hope that, despite the handicaps against the Americans, they will win the race and that the first flag raised at the south pole, as at the north, will be the stars and stripes.

ARREST REVEALS A REVEL IN CRIME

Eddie English, Noted Convict, Uuder Arrest for Blackmail.

ONLY OUT OF PRISON A WEEK

When Caught Had Letter Demanding $37,000 from Dr. Parsons—Many Chicagoans on List—Spent Years in Cell.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—One of the most remarkable tales in criminal annals was unfolded following the arrest of Eddie English, a crook of national fame and many aliases, as he was about to embark on a holdup campaign against prominet Chicagoans which in its daring the police say is hard to match.

English was paroled only a month ago from the Joliet penitentiary, already had gone to a man of wealth—Stanley Field—and through a letter secured sufficient money to aid in his reformation. He used it for the purchase of a full set of burglar's tools.

Among the most interesting developments following the arrest of English is the fact, that this man, who in the last fifteen years has been outside a prison cell only seven months, is asserted by the police to be a member of a wealthy eastern family and to have been on the eve of a reconciliation with his entranged relatives when caught.

He was captured by Detectives Yancey and Joyce, while prowling in a west side alley. He was identified later as the man who on Feb. 4 walked into the office of Dr. B. H. Chamberlain, 2855 Washington boulevard, and "borrowed" $50 at the point of a revolver, saying he would pay the money back later.

English, who has the distinction of being the only man who ever broke out of the Baltimore city jail, declares that his first arrest came as the result of being accused of writing the famous anonymous letters to Cornelius Vanderbilt, concerning the millionaire's fiance, Miss Grace Wilson, in 1896.

He was released the last time from the penitentiary at the request of Maj. M. A. Messiein of the Volunteers of America, and said he wanted a new chance to "make good," and became a protege of Mrs. Sophia Van Dine, the mother of Harvey Van Dine, executed "car barn murderer."

Letters and names found in his clothing, and as subsequently corroborated by English himself, indicate that he had evolved a plan for preying upon Chiacagoans which if successful would have netted him at least $100,000.

The most remarkable of the letters which English had in his possession when arrested was one addressed to Dr. D. K. Pearsons, the aged Hinsdale philanthropist. In it he demanded $37,000 in cash immediately, which he stated "would be repaid."

In one of his pockets was found a list of names of wealthy men and women of Chicago, the purpose of which he freely admitted was to serve as a memorandum for "material to work on." The list follows:

Potter Palmer Jr., Hobart C. Chatfield, Dr. George S. Isham, Dexter Fairbank, Harold F. McCormick, Albert De Wolfe Erskine, George F. Henneberry, Kellogg M. Felton, Mrs. Hiram D. Fargo, Mrs. George H. High, Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair.

TOMBSTONE INDICTS TALKERS

Cackling of Friends' Tongues Declared to Have Killed Woman.

Carlyle, Ill., Feb. 28.—In a country cemetery, a mile from town, Thomas Philip, an eccentric farmer, has just erected over the grave of his wife Alice a tombstone bearing this epitaph:

"Alice Philip. Born April 10, 1861, died Nov. 15, 1900. Talked to death by friends."

Mrs. Philip was an invalid during the latter years of her life, and, according to her husband, every acquaintance in the county offered her suggestions on how to get well.

THIEVES CHLOROFORM HOGS

Thus Prevent Animals from Squealing in Alarm.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 28.—Chloroforming hogs is the unusual occupation followed by Frank Baker and Eugene Raymer, who, with Frank Licher and Earl and Archie Runkle, were given a preliminary hearing before Justice Vanosdal. Baker and Raymer were charged with larceny and the others with conspiracy.

The chloroform put the hogs to sleep, and they were then hauled away while under the influence of anesthetic.

SLAIN BY INSANE HUSBAND

Demented East St. Louis Man Then Kills Himself.

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 28.—G. F. Wiedemer shot and killed his wife and himself.

He was insane, but his wife persisted in caring for him at home.

WHITESIDE COUNTY LEADS CORN YIELD

PRODUCTION PER ACRE GREATER THAN ANY OTHER COUNTY OF STATE.

A recent statistical report for the year 1909, as sent by the state board of agriculture, places Whiteside county in the lead of all other counties in this state in the average production of corn to the acre.

The report shows that the yield of corn there last year averaged 50 bushels to the acre, 13 bushels more than Carroll county, 14 more than Ogle, 18 more than Jo Daviess and 20 bushels more than Stephenson county.

It is estimated that in Whiteside county it costs $10.90 an acre to raise corn, which at the present prices would give the farmer a profit of nearly $19, not counting what he realizes from the stalks for forage for stock.

The farmer who left corn in the field all winter will realize much less this year.

OGLE COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION MET

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS ELECTED, HARRY LEBOWICH BEING TREASURER.

Oregon, Feb. 28—Special—A meeting of the stockholders of the Ogle County Fair association was held recently and the following officers elected: G. H. Mix, re-elected president; E. A. Ray, vice president; J. C. Syster, H. E. Wade, Franc Bacon were re-elected directors, while S. W. Crowell was elected director to fill the place made vacant by the death of Dr. G. M. McKenney. A directors' meeting followed and Wm. Frearer was persuaded to continue as secretary and Harry Lebowich will continue as treasurer. About 400 shares of stock were represented.

Mr. McGrail, employed at the new government building, went to Chicago on business yesterday.

WILTON LACKAYE

Wilton Lackaye in "The Battle."

"The Battle," the play that gave Cleveland Moffett his start as a successful dramatist ,and Wilton Lackaye the soundest hit of his starring career, is scheduled for a local production at the Academy of Music in Sterling next Wednesday night with Mr. Lackaye in his original role of John J. Haggleton, the richest man in New York. The advance notices of the play also give John D. Rockefeller some credit for the creation of this star part, inasmuch as the great Standard Oil magnate has contributed to the capatilistic arguments advanced by this character in the play.

The leading New York socialists were also given an opportunity to have a finger in the authorship of the dialogue and they would undoubtedly have done so had these worthy ladies and gentlemen (for the socialists boast both lady and gentlemen leaders, if you please) been able to agree upon any set of speeches whereby the socialistic character of play might do full justice to the cause they represented. The fact that no suggestion proved satisfactory to the majorit yof the socialists consulted goes far to sustain the attitude assumed in the play, for while Mr. Moffett disclaims and partisanship he apparently takes delight in "giving the poor millionaire a chance."

The play has a record of a season in New York, besides uniform success wherever else it has been performed, adequate proof that it contains all the necessary elements of exceeding popularity.

An excellent cast supports Mr Lackaye, including Harry Hilliard Thomas McGrane, Clara Blondich Julie Herne, Charles Abbe and Gerald Griffin. Liebler & Co. is named as responsible for the production and Hugh Ford for the staging.

BRONCHIAL TUBES ALL STUFFED UP

"While a resident of Washington D. C., I suffered continually and intensely with a bronchial trouble that was simply terrible to endure. I would have spells that I could hardly breathe, I would choke up, fill up in my throat and bronchial tubes, and the doctoring that I did and the remedies used were of no benefit to me whatever, I heard about Booth's Hyomei being so beneficial in catarrhal and bronchial affections and procured an outfit. I received relief from the first by its use. I continued with it and received a cure. It is about two years since I have suffered at all from my former trouble.—Mrs. L R. Pannell, 404 N. Augusta Street, Staunton, Va., March 26, 1909.

Hyomei is guaranteed by Rowland Bros. to cure catarrh, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back.

A complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit costs $1.00 at druggists everywhere. This includes a hard rubber inhaler and bottle of Hyomei; extra bottles of Hyomei cost 50 cents.

Stop You

We don't mean just stop the irritation in your throat—but cure the underlying cause.

Cough syrups cannot do this. It takes a constitutional tonic body builder to do the work properly—and cure you to stay cured.

If we cannot stop that cough with VINOL—our delicious cod liver and iron tonic—which is made without oil—we will not charge you a cent for the medicine you buy. This seems like a pretty fair proposition—and ought to be accepted. Don't you think so? With this understanding we ask you to try it.

BAPTIST CHURCH CLEARED OF DEBT

HOME COMING DAY ON SUNDAY WAS A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS.

Yesterday was Home Coming day at the Baptist church and there was an unusually large attendance and interest. Rev. Mainwaring made an appeal for $1500 to clear up the indebtedness of the church and the response showed $1505, which was very gratifying not only to the pastor but to all others interested. A plan is now proposed to create a fund of $200 for the aggressive work of the church and it is believed that this can be readily accomplished, as there were many interested members of the church who were not able to be present, some being out of the city. There was a large audience at the evangelistic service in the evening, the auditorium being filled. A very helpful and inspiring address was delivered by Rev. Mainwaring.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Dodge will return tomorrow from Chicago, where they have been spending the winter with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr.

ELKS WILL MEET.

The Elks have their regular meeting tonight and there will be some initiations afterwards.

County Superintendent Edwards went to Amboy this morning to visit schools and transact other business.

Judge R. S. Farrand and his reporter, A. C. Gossman, who were here over Sunday, returned to Galena today.

W. R. McGinnis is in Iowa on land business.

Your Signature A Protection

At the time you make your first deposit in the State Bank we take your signature on a card which we keep on file for reference and comparison, with the signatures on the checks you write.

Your signature in our possession is a protection against forgery, not alone on your checks but on any other instrument which might be offered for discount or sale,

Every person has some marked peculiarity in the signature that make correct imitation almost impossible, so we ask customers to sign the card to keep, in the same manner they usually write their initials and name on their checks,

This is but one of the many little services we render our customers but it is a big factor in preventing forgeries and other frauds by smooth criminals.

Dramatic Notes

OPERA HOUSE.

Ferguson and Mack, who appear at the opera house tonight, should make a big hit during their three days' stay here. This is a team of knockabout comedians who for several seasons were the stars with McCarthy's Mishaps company. Their act is full of rough comedy. There is hardly a moment when they are on the stage that the audience is not in a roar of laughter.

Gladys Middleton, singing comedienne, and Clifford Cole, baritone, are also on the bill. Mr. Cole has a beautiful baritone voice and has just recently come off the road with a musical comedy company.

The moving pictures, which are usually very good, are changed tonight A treat that everyone in Dixon will want to hear is the Cubanola Trio, which comes Thursday. They are three colored girls in a refined singing act that is well worth going to hear.

MANY HERE ON DRAINAGE MATTER

A hearing on the report of the commissioners of the Maple Grove drainage district was held in the court of Judge Scott today. Present at the hearing were Atty. Wm. L. Leech, Atty. Chas. Preston, Atty. P. M. James, John I. Thomas, Charles Welty, Fred Vaughan and John M. Egan of Amboy engineer for the Maple Grove and Inlet Swamp drainage districts.

KID OLSON READY FOR THE BOUT

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED TO FILL THE HALL WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Kid Olsen is very much improved in form in the last few days. His shoulder is pronounced O. K. by his physicians and he will be in first class condition for the wrestling match Wednesday evening.

He took the first workout on the mat last night that he dared indulge in for some time. He has, however, been doing a great deal of road work and his wind is better than ever.

Word from Sam Best shows that his condition is all that his name implies and Olsen will have to go some to walk away with the honors. We think our Dixon lad is all the goods though, and his friends have enough faith in him to back him up to almost any extent.

The match has been well advertised throughout the country and towns in this vicinity and the prospects are that standing room in the hall will be at a premium.

STORE OPENS SATURDAY.

A. M. Stein's new clothing shop will not open tomorrow, as had been planned. Shipments of clothes that were expected did not come in time to be put in readiness for sale. The store will open on Saturday of this week.

JACOB M. POWELL OF POLO IS DEAD

Saturday at 5:30 p. m. Jacob M. Powell died at his home in Polo. He was well known in Dixon and vicinity, taking tickets for many years at the Assembly, where he also had a cottage. He was in the restaurant business in Polo and later was agent for a lightning rod company. Mr. Powell was a man of high integrity and had many friends. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Lutheran church with burial at Polo.

A. M. Stein is in Chicago on business.

Wm. Carnahan of Compton was in Dixon today calling on friends and transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zoeller have rented the Bluff Park residence owned by Miss Squires.

H. L. Webber has gone to Winona fr a week in the interest of the Webber tailoring establishment.

CANDIDATE FOR DIXON PULPIT

REV. FISHER TO PREACH TUESDAY NIGHT—RECEPTION FOR REV. SPICER.

Rev. F. E. Fisher of Paxton, who is a candidate for the pulpit of the local Christian church to succeed Rev. Spicer, will be here to visit the church people Tuesday and will deliver a sermon in the church at 7:30 in the evening, which it is hoped all members of the church will hear.

Following the sermon, or at 8:30, a farewell reception will be held for Rev. Spicer and family. Some special music will be provided by the choir. Not only are the members of the church invited to the reception, but a special invitation is extended the friends of Rev. Spicer in the city, as he will probably not have an opportunity to meet many of them again before leaving to take up his work in Oklahoma.

Schoolboy Logic.

"Should women have votes for parliament? Give your reasons for and against." This was a question asked of schoolboys in a recent examination in England. One boy replied: "No, because if they did they would want to get into parliament and then they would pass a lot of silly laws, such as that a man was not to smoke before his wife or that wives were to have Wednesdays and Thursdays off and then the men would have to stay at home and mind the children."

A logical answer to the question, "Why does a kettle sing?" was furnished by a boy who wrote, "Because if it did not you could not tell when the kettle was boiling." Asked to explain the initials "C. O. D.," one boy replied that they stood for "collector of debts," and a second said "cod-liver oil drink."

Another enterprising youth described a sleeping partner as "a man who goes to sleep when playing bridge." Asked how he would mend a puncture in a bicycle tire, a boy's answer was to the point, "I would get a box of stuff that you do it with and stick it on."

Importance of a Word.

If you should write a letter to the man who is chief magistrate of this republic you are at liberty to address him as "The President, Washington, D. C." That will be sufficient. He is not "his excellency," as is the supreme executive magistrate of Massachusetts, nor "his high mightiness," a title which, they say, sounded pleasing to the ear of the Father of His Country. But if you should write a letter to the secretary of state of the United States, whom the plain "president" appointed to the job, prepare to dip your pen in honorific ink. While the chief magistrate is plain "president," without any titular epaulets, his secretary of state is "the honorable secretary of state." It will not do to address him as "the secretary of state" simply. He is something more than that. The etiquette of the state department requires that the word "honorable" be prefixed to the word "secretary."—Boston Globe.

Fire Prevention Among Pines.

Pines protect themselves against forest fires in a remarkable manner. For four or five years the stems of the infant trees attain a height of only as many inches above the soil. During this time their bark is extraordinarily thick, and that alone gives some protection. But, in addition, the long needles spring up above the stem and then bend on all sides in a green cascade which falls to the ground in a circle about the seedling. This green barrier can with difficulty be made to burn, while the shade that it casts prevents inflammable grass from growing near the protected stem. The officers of the forestry service at Washington are of opinion that it is owing to this peculiar system of self protection which the pine seedlings have developed that the growth of evergreen oaks in Florida has been restricted in regions where fires have raged, while pine forests have taken their place.—Harper's Weekly.

When Wives Were Sold.

When the war between Britain and France ended in 1815 many of the English soldiers found that their wives had married again in the belief that they were widows. The formal selling of the wife was regarded among the ignorant as a legal solution to the problem thus presented, and it is said that the authorities of the day deemed it best to shut their eyes at the proceeding. A certain amount of formality had to be observed, however, before the sale was considered legal even by the most ignorant. A Yorkshire writer mentions two conditions which must be carried out to make a satisfactory sale—the price of the wife must not be less than 1 shilling (24 cents), and she must be delivered to her purchaser with a new halter around her neck. The same writer records the case of the woman who zealously preserved the receipts for herself as a proof of respectability.

Humor and Morality.

We have extirpated gross humor from our modern literature, but we must not suppose that we are therefore more moral than the Elizabethans, whose literature was full of gross humor. It may be that we are only more afraid of ourselves and each other. This kind of fear is destructive not only of gross humor, but of humor of all kinds. In its essence humor is brave as it is honest, but with cowardice and dishonesty there come base substitutes for it, substitutes that make fun of noble things with a humorous air, and so bring humor itself into discredit.—London Times.

A Great Mystery Solved.

How many hairpins does a woman use when doing her hair? The hairpin editor has investigated and makes this report: "She uses just as many as she has. If she has only two hairpins she makes her hair stay up with two, but if she finds twenty in the top bureau drawer she uses all of them."—Atchison Globe.

RHODE ISLAND'S REPRESENTATIVE IN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

The battleship Rhode Island was built by the Fore River company and launched at Weymouth, Mass., May 17, 1904. All during her construction the Rhode Island seemed to be overshadowed by an unmistakable hoodoo. Several strikes occurred while she was building, and the date of her launching had to be postponed several times. There was a society tempest in a teapot over her christening, and when it came off there were no Rhode Island officials present. After she had left the ways she plunged into a mud bank and stuck fast for several hours. Then her bad luck ended. The Rhode Island has a displacement of 15,320 tons, and her indicated horsepower is 19,000. At her speed trial she made 19.33 knots. Her armor is a complete water line belt of steel eight feet in depth. Her armament consists of four twelve-inch 40 caliber breechloading guns in pairs in turrets, four eight-inch 45 caliber guns in superposed turrets, twelve six-inch 50 caliber quick firing guns on main deck and the usual number of smaller guns, with four submerged torpedo tubes.

NOT A LAW CASE.

Just Wanted to Know Her Rights and How to Get Them.

In Washington some years ago there was a colored woman who demanded all that was due her. On one occasion, at a period when less care was given to the water supply than is now the case, the colored woman accosted a man who was just leaving the District government buildings. "Mistuh," she said, "I wants ter state a case."

"I am not a lawyer, aunty."

"'Tain't no law case. I ain't gwine to sue nobody. I jes' wants to know what my rights is an' how to git 'em."

"You see any of the clerks here if it's government business."

"I ain't got no piece o' paper to shove in at de window so's to get noticed. But I's bein' 'scriminated against."

"What's the trouble?" was the kindly inquiry.

"I ain' gittin' proper 'tention. Ev'y once in awhile I hyahs it read out o' de paper dat somebody has got a eel out'n his hydrant."

"Well, an eel is a very cleanly sort of creature. It doesn't do any harm."

"You didn' fink I was a-skyaht of 'em, did you? De case I wants to lay befo' de gover'ment is dis: I pays extra rent to kiver de water tax. I's had a hydrant in my back yahd foh fohteen years an' I ain' nebber got no eel yit.

"What I wants to know is how does dey 'stribute dem eels? Is dey prizes or is dey favoritisms or what is dey? If dar's any eels comin' to me I's hyah wif my basket, ready to take dem home right now, 'case we ain't got no money to buy meat, an' we's kin' of hongry foh feesh anyhow."—Youth's Companion.

BEANS IN BOSTON.

The Millions of Quarts That Are Annually Baked and Eaten.

Boston baked beans are known around the globe. In the city of Boston alone about 32,000,000 quarts of baked beans are devoured annually, to say nothing of the pork that goes with them and the brown bread that is also served. There are factories or bakeries which handle nothing but baked beans from one year's end to the other. One of the largest of these, which supplies restaurants wholly, bakes 14,000 quarts of beans a week. Other bakeries also furnish brown bread, while nearly every bakeshop that makes bread, pastry and pies also bakes beans several times a week. There are bakeries with ovens that will hold 2,000 quarts each.

The preparation and baking of beans are interesting operations. In establishments where beans only are baked it is done on a huge scale. There are great kettles that hold two or three bushels of beans, and into these the beans are put to soak and parboil. Then the pots of earthenware, varying in size from one quart to two gallons, are ranged around on tables and filled from the big kettles. Every quart of beans is carefully picked over and sorted and cleaned of all dirt and dead beans before being put into the kettles. The ovens are huge brick affairs, glowing red with heat. Experts consider that beans cannot be properly cooked except in a brick oven. Some of the ovens hold 2,000 quarts each. Filled with the loaded pots, they present a sight worth beholding. So hot are the ovens that long handled flat shovels are used to push the pots in and take them out.—New York Tribune.

BALLINGER HIT BY GIFFORD PINCHOT

Secretary Designated a Falsifier and Unfaithful.

SAYS GLAVIS TOLD THE TRUTH

Startling Statement Made by the Former Forester Before the Ballinger-Pinchot Congressional Committee.

Washington, Feb. 28.—When Gifford Pinchot was called to the stand in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation he made the following statement to the congressional committee:

"What I desire to lay before the committee is a consecutive story of my experience with Mr. Ballinger in relation to the conservation of natural resources. Among several other matters there are two of principal importance to be called to your attention.

"The first of these concerns the policy, devised and inaugurated by the last administration, of protecting against monopolistic control the water-power sites owned by the people.

"I shall show you that Secretary Ballinger entered his office with the clear determination to make short work of that policy; that he reversed it so far as he was allowed to do so; that he restored the power sites to entry without the remotest idea of rewithdrawing them, and that finally, when I charged him last autumn to the president with being an enemy of the policy of conservation, he capped the climax by giving to the president himself an explanation of his conduct that was essentially false.

"The second has to do with my connection as a government officer with the Cunningham coal cases, and with the Glavis charges.

"I shall show you how the forest service became involved in these cases, and how Glavis submitted his facts to me.

"I believed then, as I believe now, that he told the truth.

"I am convinced now, as I was when he came to me, that Glavis was a faithful public servant and that the facts which he presented prove that Mr. Ballinger has been unfaithful to his trust as a servant of the people and as the guardian of public property of enormous value.

"When this story has been told, and the witnesses whom I shall ask you to call have been heard, you will realize that the interests of the people are not safe in Mr. Ballinger's hands, and that the country will demand of this committee a verdict in harmony with the general conviction that the secretary of the interior has been unfaithful both to the public, whose property he has endangered, and to the president, whom he has deceived."

HANSON PARTY ARRIVES SAFE

Anxiety for Lost Tourists Is Dispelled Late Last Night.

Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—W. H. Hansen, his wife and son of Saratoga Springs, who are on a trans-continental automobile tour and, with their road guide, George Dake, were lost on the desert between Ehrenburg, Ariz., and Mecca, Cal., and who reached Mecca after a most harrowing experience, left Mecca again for Los Angeles.

The party was five hours overdue and a rescue crew has been sent out to meet them.

Later—The Hansen automobile party arrived here.

Charles F. Cook Leaves for Turkey to Assume Charge of Work.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Charles F. Cook, C. E., has left for Turkey, where he will take charge of the work of unearthing the ancient city of Sardis, in Asia Minor. The project is in charge of H. C. Butler, an archaeologist of Princeton, who has conducted similar expeditions in Syria.

Permission has been obtained from the Turkish government to carry out the work of excavating the city and it is expected that about five years will elapse before the task will be completed. If the work of excavating Sardis proves successful, two other buried cities will be uncovered.

BLACK RIVER IS RISING FAST

Port Huron Fears Flood if Rain Continues to Fall.

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 28.—Recent storms have caused a large amount of snow in this vicinity to disappear and, as a result, Black river is rising at the rate of nine inches an hour.

Should the rains continue for any length of time there is no doubt that much damage will be done and that the flood will be worse than ever before.

PERFECT CONFIDENCE

DIXON PEOPLE HAVE GOOD REASON FOR COMPLETE RELIANCE.

Do you know how—
To find quick relief from backache;
To correct distressing urinary ills;
To surely cure sick kidneys?
Just one way—your neighbors know—
Have used Doan's Kidney Pills;
Have proved their worth in many tests.
Here's Dixon testimony:

Mrs. William Toot, 512 W. Second street, Dixon, Ill., says: "I suffered for years from kidney complaint and my back ached persistently. I was so weak at times I could not atend to my housework and nothing I used did me any good. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Leake Bros. Co.'s drug store and they cured me. I feel that my experience should convince the most skeptical person of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. I know of a number of other people who have taken this remedy with great benefit." (Statement given February 5, 1907.)

Re-Endorsement.

Mrs. Toot was interviewed on January 5, 1910, and she added to the above: "I have no hesitation in verifying my former edorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. During the time that has since elapsed, I have taken this remedy occasionally and it has always brought prompt and effective relief."

ENTIRELY TOO CAREFUL.

Fate of the Flowers the Master Placed In Water.

A certain good natured doctor whose doorbell rang late one Saturday night, supposing that the summons was from some one who needed his services, rose from bed, put on his dressing gown and went to the door.

A workingman stood there, holding a huge paper package, from which buds and leaves were protruding.

"Is Miss Caroline Ward in?" he asked.

"She has retired," returned the doctor. Miss Caroline Ward was his cook.

"I'm sorry, sir, to call so late. Something went wrong with the tramcar I was in. I'll leave this for her, sir, if you will kindly give it to her in the morning.

"Certainly," said the doctor. He took the flowers into the kitchen, placed a dishpan in the sink, drew a few inches of water in it, carefully pressed the base of the package into the water and went back to bed, thinking how pleased the cook would be.

The next morning he found the cook holding a dripping bundle. She was angry.

"If I 'ad the pussons 'ere wot did this," said she, "I'd empty the kettle on 'em! I'd let 'em see if they could put the 'at what my young man bought me in a dishpan, I would!"

The doctor left the kitchen somewhat hurriedly.—London Scraps.

Might Change His Mind.

Sir Frank Lockwood was defending a man accused of swindling and in an eloquent peroration talked of his much injured client as an angel of light. When Sir Frank had finished his speech his client whispered that he wanted to shake hands with him. "When first my solicitor told me what he was paying you," said the client, "I grumbled, but since I have been listening to you I have come to the conviction that the money was well spent, and I apologize. That half hour talk of yours about me has done me good. It is many years since I have experienced the luxury of self respect, and it is worth the money."

"Oh, that's all right," said Sir Frank genially, "but you take my advice and go out of court. Sir Edward Clarke, the lawyer on the other side, is just going to speak."

SANDUSKY RIVER IS RISING RAPIDLY

Already Thousands of Dollars Damage Has Been Done.

TOWN OF HURON THREATENED

Water Three Feet High in State Street in Fremont—Families Leaving Their Homes—Traction Service is at a Standstill.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 28. — Unless a sudden drop in the temperature halts the melting of snow and the rainfall, which has fell steadily since last evening, northern Ohio by tonight will be in the grip of disastrous floods Already thousands of dollars damage has been done by the flooding of lowlands in Fremont, Sandusky, Huron, Akron, Bucyrus and other cities and the rivers continue to rise.

Hundreds of families have fled their homes in Fremont and Bucyrus. In Fremont merchants have boarded up their business places, removing their stocks to higher ground, while manufacturers have moved valuable machinery.

The Sandusky river is at the fifteen foot stage in Fremont, five feet above the danger line. The water is three feet in State srtect. Fremont, and traction service on the Lake Shore electric is halted. In Sandusky the rising of Mills Creek has halted Lake Shore electric service The Huron river is rising and the town of Huron is threatened, the wagon and interurban bridges in Huron being in momentary danger of being carried away. Sandusky cellars are flooded and families are fleeing their homes. In Akron the lowlands are flooded by the rising of the Little Cuyahoga and the Cuyahoga rivers.

EARLY BALLOONING.

Some Odd Ideas That Prevailed In the Eighteenth Century.

As far back as 1814 the American public were led to believe that the Atlantic had been crossed in a balloon. On May 28 in that year the New York Sun published a detailed account of an aerial voyage from Liverpool to Charleston, which purported to have been accomplished by "the steering balloon Victoria in a period of seventy-five hours from land to land." Five columns were devoted to the description of the journey and to a scientific account of the balloon, of which a woodcut was given, and an air of verisimilitude was added by a list of eight passengers, one of the names mentioned being that of Harrison Ainsworth, who was then at the height of his fame.

At the end of the eighteenth century balloons were all the rage. Then, as now, enthusiasts predicted a time near at hand when war would either be an awful matter of the annihilation of armies and forts by bombs from above or would cease altogether through the abolition of frontiers and the fusion of nations. Prophecy went even further.

Canals and roads were to vanish and the space occupied by them to be restored to agriculture. And ships (if any still existed) when caught in a storm would be grappled by the mast from balloons above and safely conveyed into port or even carried over mountain ranges.—Chicago News.

REFORM CROWDS PEACEABLE

Thousands Parade Streets but Disperse When Ordered to Do So.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—After a largely attended franchise reform meeting some thousands of the participants marched long the Unterdenlin and shouted vigorously for franchise reform, outside the imperial palace.

As the crowd grew in size and fervor the gates opened and a party of mounted and unmounted police issued. They ordered the crowd to disperse, whereupon the demonstrators marched off still shouting for reform.

EXPECT CRISIS TODAY

Trouble Expected When Schwab Attempts to Open Plant.

Extra Precautions Have Been Taken to Protect Strike-Breakers—Coroner's Jury Is Sworn In.

South Bethlehem, Feb. 28.—The effect of the presence of two companies of the state constabulary sent here to quell the rioting at the Bethlehem Steel Works and their determined stand was apparent Sunday. There was not the semblance of disorder and no arrests.

The crisis, however, is expected to develop today when C. M. Schwab will start his plant again. Besides the constabulary, 300 deputy sheriffs with 1,000 rounds of ammunition will protect the men loyal to the company when they return to work today.

The only important development was the swearing in of Coroner Gohen's jury to investigate the killing of Joseph Szambo. The minister of Austria-Hungary at Washington is taking a hand in the investigation.
